

NH Outside Calendar Order Form

This beautiful 2010 calendar offers a selection of excerpts from NH Outside, reflective essays written by UNH Cooperative Extension natural resources volunteers who share the humor, insight, and wonder they've found in the natural world outside their doorsteps.

We started our NH Outside writers collaborative in late 2004 to give UNH Cooperative Extension natural resources volunteers who love to write another way to share their experience and enthusiasm with their peers.

These volunteers receive special training and ongoing support to produce reflective essays that share their experiences and that aim to connect readers to the natural world in some meaningful way. We distribute their essays weekly to newspapers throughout New Hampshire.

Illustrated by original artwork, the calendar also offers daily tips and tidbits to expand your awareness of the natural world.

Order early! We expect to sell out fast.
