Raising Turkeys

The Basics

Thursday, May 20, 2010

6:30 – 7:30 p.m.

at the

Pillsbury Free Library

(meeting downstairs)

18 East Main Street

Warner, NH

Presented by Dot Perkins, UNH Cooperative Extension

Bio: Dot and her husband have been raising meat, milk and eggs for their family for over 20 years. She is a strong advocate of humanely raised and butchered back yard livestock. Come listen to all the facts and many practical tips pertaining to raising and caring for turkeys in New Hampshire.

About the Presentation: This is a 50-minute power point presentation with approximately 30 minutes after the presentation for questions.

Information about species, breeds, housing, nutrition, illness and more will be discussed. This talk is designed to help the beginner get ready for the arrival and basic care of their turkeys. This talk will not cover butchering.

This workshop is free and open to the public.
