

Community Resource Network

with

UNIVERSITY of NEW HAMPSHIRE
COOPERATIVE EXTENSION

A Guide To SOCIAL NETWORKING

How can all these new technologies help your non-profit work in the community?

---

Social Networking – besides Twitter, FaceBook and MySpace, there are some very helpful tools to help build coalitions and make the work of all those committees you belong to easier.

---

Want to learn how to utilize them? Especially the BEST FREE ones? Learn about Ning, Wiki, Delicious, drop.io, and more!

---

How can being up to date with new technologies help your agency and reduce your workload?

---

FREE PRESENTATION for CRN MEMBER ORGANIZATIONS

Not a member yet? Bring that dues check to the door!
Donations gladly accepted from non-members.

- WHEN: Friday, November 13th
9:00 - 11:30 a.m.
- WHERE: Community Campus
100 Campus Drive
Portsmouth
- PRESENTERS: UNH Cooperative Extension Educators:
Rick Alleva, Ed.D.
Karyn M. Blass, M.Ed.
- REGISTER: Seating is limited, please register
by contacting Susan Turner
at sturner@rcaction.org

Please join us for a special learning opportunity!

Thanks to Rockingham Community Action acting as fiscal agent for RCCRN.

The University of New Hampshire Cooperative Extension is an equal opportunity educator and employer. University of New Hampshire, U.S. Department of Agriculture and N.H. counties cooperating.