In addition to the Taking Charge of Holiday Finances, Holiday Spending Planner, the University of New Hampshire Cooperative Extension offers other money management publications and programs which could help you throughout the entire year. For on-line publications visit our resources page at: <http://extension.unh.edu/resources/>.

One of these programs is Taking Charge of Your Finances, a four session class which can help you gain control over your money. We also offer a Making Money Work for You workshop, this five session class will help you better manage personal financial resources, decrease debt, increase savings, and help you plan for the future. Contact a UNH Cooperative Extension county office for more information.
