

William B. Leak, Research Silviculturist, Northern Research Station, U.S. Forest Service, Forestry Sciences Laboratory, 271 Mast Rd., Durham, NH 03824, 603-868-7655, bleak@fs.fed.us

Education

1956 M.F. Forest Management – NY State College of Forestry

1953 BS Forestry – NY State College of Forestry

Honors and Awards

2011 New England Society of American Foresters (NESAF) David. M. Smith Award (silviculture)

2011 Society of American Foresters Golden Membership award

2001 NE Research Station Distinguished Scientist Award

1998 New England Society of American Foresters, Distinguished Service Award

1997 Society of American Foresters Certificate of Appreciation for Outstanding Service as Associate Editor,
Northern Journal of Applied Forestry

1996 Elected Fellow, Society of American Foresters

1996 Certificate of Appreciation, Maine Bureau of Parks and Lands

1995 NH Wildlife Stewardship Award

1994 Northeast Research Station Director's Award for Research Excellence

1994 U.S. Forest Service Chief's Award for Technology Transfer

1992 New England Society of American Foresters Ernest Gould Technology Transfer Award

1986 Society of American Foresters Granite State Division Outstanding Forester Award

Professional Affiliations

Society of American Foresters

Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests

N.H. Timberland Owners Association

University Involvement

Adjunct Full Professor, University of New Hampshire

Publications and Research Accomplishments

170 publications and numerous talks and workshops related to ecological site classification, site-related silviculture, uneven-aged management, environmental impact, modeling, wildlife habitat, economics and management.